Subject: FWAA Phones Temporarily Down

Date: July 12, 2016

A large Comcast outage has left thousands of businesses without access to make and receive phone calls across the U.S. and FWAA is unfortunately, part of that group. Comcast national is currently working on the outage, but we have been told it could be up to 24 hours before our service is completely restored.

Our email service is still working, so if you need to contact our office, you can do so at the following addresses: errin@fwaa.org or denise@fwaa.org
