Far West manages its own PAC in Washington State – the Far West Agribusiness PAC – and it contributes to Agricultural PACs in Idaho and Oregon. Operated separately from the Association and its membership, funds raised for the PAC support well-qualified candidates who know and understand our industry and know and understand business. Neither FWAA nor the Far West Agribusiness PAC have a party affiliation and we work with all those who can provide us with the best possible business environment in which to operate. We have demonstrated results in the past and will continue to build upon those in the future.
